KILN BASEBALL FANS ARE BUSY FOR '27 SEASON

Meeting of Kila Baseball Club—Will Sell Stock—Norton Haas to Be Manager Ball Park Named For Andrew Lott.

As spring approaches sporting fans throughout America turn their minds from the popular indoor games to the nation's most famous outdoor sport—baseball, the mighty king of "em." At a meeting of the Kila Baseball Association, held Thursday night, it was decided to sell shares for the club of Nineteen Twenty-Seven, to put the organization on a safe financial footing. It was also decided the Kila club would again be directed by Norton Haas, well-known in business circles as the head and owner of the Norton Haas Lumber company, with headquarters in Bay St. Louis, operating directly from Kila.

"Lott Park" Name Selected. One of the most important topics of interest discussed at the meeting was a name for the new baseball park recently completed last season. An offer was made last year to name the park in honor of the first ball player to drive the ball over the fence, while engaged in a scheduled game, but the season ended leaving the field nameless. So it was decided to call the home of the Kila Lumberjacks in the future Lott Park in honor of the donor, Mr. Andrew Lott, a highly esteemed Kila merchant. The baseball-loving public at Kila are very grateful to Mr. Lott for the interest he manifested at all times in the advancement of the local club. The plot donated to the club for their individual use contains about four acres, which was at the time practically cleared, the club having only to construct a grandstand, fence and get the diamond in shape.

To Get Professional Coach. As was mentioned above, plans are under way to put the club on different footing than last year. The affairs of the association were financed individually by Norton Haas last year, and the directors felt that the members of the association should be in a position to take the matter over for the coming season. The probability was also discussed of securing a coach for this year, as Manager Haas reported too much work rested upon his shoulders in time allotted. Plan to Enter Gulf Coast League. The proposed Gulf Coast League was also discussed, Manager Haas having just returned from a meeting with Ernest M. Barber, of Gulfport, in the Cotton States Loop. It was decided that if proposed league was organized that Kila would be ready to enter at any time. The club officials keep constantly in communication with Benj. Harrison, who has the project in charge at present and reports seem to assure that the towns along the coast will be combined in a league within a few weeks.

Preparation Begun For Season. Arrangements are being made to get the diamond in first class shape for spring practice. This work will be directed by Manager Haas, who will see that there is not a single stone left unturned in putting the Lumberjack grounds in good condition. The Lumberjacks will start the season short of four regulars from last season's winning combination. Two of these are their mainstays in Manuel "Mogie" Haas, brilliant firstsacker, and Elus Burke, star catcher, both having signed with the Gulfport Tarpons. The Lumberjacks expect to issue the call for players to report within two weeks.

What Is a Diuretic?

People Are Learning the Value of Occasional Use.

EVERYONE knows that a laxative stimulates the bowels. A diuretic performs a similar function to the kidneys. Under the strain of our modern life, our organs are apt to become sluggish and require assistance. More and more people are learning to use Doan's Pills, occasionally, to insure good circulation which is so essential to good health. More than 50,000 grateful users have given Doan's signed recommendations. Scarcely a community but has its representation. Ask your neighbor!

RED DEVILS LOSE GAME TO WOLVES

Loyola Wins Catholic Championship By Margin of One Game.

Taking the last series of games from the Stanislaus Rockchaws over on their own court, the Wolves of Loyola nosed out the Bay lads and won the coveted Southern Catholic championship.

Connagene's quintet had previously defeated the Loyola bunch in two games played on the Stanislaus court, but when they journeyed over to the Crescent City for the final games, they found a much improved team, which along with numerous "breaks," took both games of the series. Having a decided advantage in weight, height and reach, the Wolves ravenously devoured their smaller opponents.

In the last game, however, the Rockchaws ran up a pretty husky score, but could not overtake the enemy.

In the words of the New Orleans scribes: "There was quite a bit of roughness" in the games. The echo is: "There SURE was!"

As this column of The Echo is not devoted to the anvil chorus, we are of the opinion that the punctuation mark known as a "period" would be sufficient.

Junior Teams Lose Only One Game

Brother Gerald's Sharpshooters have covered themselves with glory this season on the basket ball court by annexing 100 per cent. of the games played. This enviable record is the first hung up in the Rockchaw wigwam since the famous Sharpshooters of '22 and '23, when Hymel, LeBlanc, Mejia & Co. decorated their tepees with the scalps of twenty-two victims.

True, the present Sharpshooters played but nine games, but in each one of them they showed wonderful floor work and shooting ability, earning for themselves a niche in the hall of basket ball fame.

The smaller brethren of the Sharpshooters, known to fame as the Baby Rocks (technically the 125 pounders) came within one game of equalling the record of the former, they unfortunately dropped the first game played to the Davitts (Knights of Columbus juniors). With the lone exception of that they played major ball, defeating their various opponents by comfortable margins.

Both of the teams showed conclusively that in time to come the Rockchaws of Stanislaus will have a continuity of basket ball stars who will continue to keep the best of Southern Universities on their toes.

The following is the record of the two teams:

135 Pounders.

Golden Tornadoes Defeat Panthers; Score, 11 to 5

In the second baseball game of the year at St. Stanislaus college the Golden Tornadoes came back after defeat last week by the Panthers and defeated them Thursday by a score of 11-5.

Winston Bradley's pitching was the main cog in the Golden Tornadoes' victory. It was Bradley's pitching that really counted for the Golden Tornadoes.

The Panthers came near knocking Bradley out of the box in the fifth inning when they made four runs.

Fernandez and Buttress were the real stars for the Panthers, for their hitting kept the Panthers running all the way through.

COMMENT ON SPORTS

The big league teams are breaking into print now with reports from their training centers. By the time the umpires play the home town fans of sixteen cities will be enthused, most of them will see a possible pennant winner. Along about the first of June business will be as usual.

The chess tournament now under way in New York is interesting to followers of that ancient game. The six masters engaged in play are among the best in the world, and the outcome of their contests will determine the challenger in a championship match. To the surprise of the spectators the world's champion, Capablanca, was held to a tie in his first game.

On the day before his fight with Jimmy Malone the word came from Jack Delaney's camp at Bridgeport, that he was all set. In fact, Jack was quoted, "no man in the world can beat me at the present time." Jack Delaney may have been right, at that; the fight was not held until the next evening, and then Jimmy proceeded to wear him out after the first four rounds.

After the outcome was certain the public amazed at Delaney's poor showing, heard what was said to be the cause. X-Ray pictures of a broken thumb and stories of a strained leader in the right arm do little good. The best thing for a defeated boxer to do is to follow the eminent example of the former champion, Jack Dempsey, who explained his defeat by saying "I forgot to duck."

George Young, the youthful swimming star, of Toronto, reached his home the other day. A big dinner given in his honor was attended because his former pal, Bill Hastings, was invited. It was Bill's motorcycle on which George made his trip to California, but the two friends fell out. That's bad; George must have the temperament of an opera star. The next night the swimmer gave his dinner, without inviting Bill, but the mayor and other officials were not present, although the mayor had been asked to select the guests.

It is not exactly a sporting event but the flight of the Italian De Pao, appeals to the lover of things athletic. Here is a man, with scant organization behind him, making an overseas trip that is ambitious, being planned for 30,000 miles. The hope of the world is that he succeeds; the effort deserves success.

Kiln Fats vs. Eagle Eyes.

At a meeting of the Arrangement Committee held at Bro. Peter's office on Thursday evening the line-up of the teams that play in the great game of basketball that is to take place at the College Gym on Sunday at the Rockchaw rally was given out officially, as follows:

Kiln Fats: Eagle Eyes: F. Keen—guard. F. Bopp B. Waters—guard. E. Arcones A. Hynde—forward. S. O'Neal A. Roddie—forward. Ed. Kellar A. Barnado—forward. S. Jones Substitutions—Kiln Fats, P. Seller, E. Seller; Eagle Eyes, Si Engman.

A feature of the game will be a disrobing contest, while playing between J. Roddie of the Fats and Eagle Eye Jones himself.

Sharpshooters Defeat Celotex Basketeers

Roland Hymel, once a bright star on the famous '22 team of the Sharpshooters, brought over his own team of basketeers last Sunday and played the Stanislaus 18's, who took the game by a score of 28 to 19.

The Celotex team are boys recruited from a pick of ex-school talent in New Orleans, and they made a wonderful showing on the court.

These lads were gotten together as the season was waning and did not have much time for practice in team work, but if held together next year they will give an excellent account of themselves.

Hymel showed by his floor work that he had not forgotten the game. He was given a glad hand by those who remembered him.

At Your Service 5,130 New Telephones

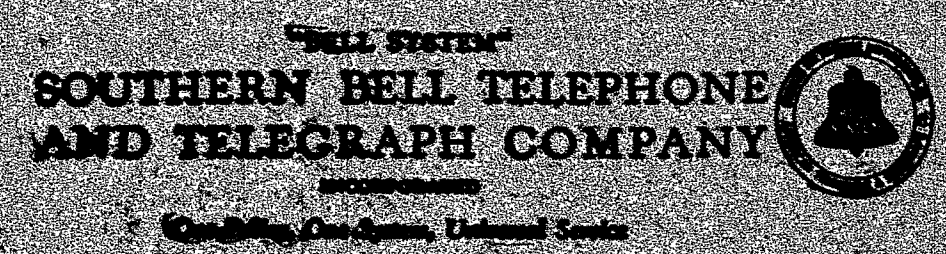

More than 5,130 new telephones were added to the Bell Telephone System in Mississippi last year.

This was a much greater gain than during the previous year, and required the best efforts of a highly trained organization.

To keep pace with Mississippi last year required telephone additions and replacements costing more than $1,604,000.

There are now 60,000 Bell telephones in Mississippi, and your service is more efficient and more valuable than ever before.

SPIRIT OF SEVEN CITIES BY THE SEA TOLD BY NEW YORK EDITOR

Head of New York Publication Visits Coast and Tells of Marvel of This Section—Hotel Gazette Gives Coast Boost as Winter Resort.

An interesting article appears in the current number of the New York Hotel Gazette, a national publication, its editor a recent visitor to this section, its improvements and possibilities. The article is worthy of reproduction, and follows:

That section of the Mississippi Gulf Coast which lies between New Orleans and Mobile, Ala., is developing rapidly as a winter resort that probably will equal Florida within the next few years. Already it has attained great popularity among northerners of the "middle western states and is, in particular, a favorite winter rendezvous of wealthy Chicagoans. Much of the capital that is being used to develop the Coast as a resort center is being supplied by Chicagoans. In addition, the Illinois Central railroad, the chief rail connection between Chicago and New Orleans, is spending a large sum of money to develop and popularize the Mississippi Coast district.

The Louisville & Nashville railroad, which also links that section of the South with the Middle West metropolitan area, is also doing its bit. The L. & N. has for several years been promoting the agricultural, industrial and recreational facilities of the district and is today spending something like $150,000 a year in magazine and newspaper publicity, to induce recreation seekers to go to Mississippi.

Seven Cities by the Sea.

As for the Illinois Central, two years ago that great company bought the Gulf and Ship Island line, which connects Jackson, Miss., with Gulfport, Miss., thus securing direct entry to another seaport that is constantly growing in importance among the ports of the world's commerce.

There are seven principal cities and numerous small towns along this stretch of coast between New Orleans and Mobile, a distance of 140 miles. Other cities it is expected, will spring up within the next few years. But the seven at present in their geographical order, Bay St. Louis, virtually a suburb of New Orleans; Pass Christian, quiet, restful and elegant, with a bower of trees along the beach; Biloxi, which the late President Wilson found so beautiful when he came to the Gulf Coast for a winter sojourn; Long Beach, a noted fruit and vegetable producing center; Gulfport, a commercial and manufacturing city, served by two trunk railroads and where square-riggers and other old-fashioned sailing ships are still to be seen; and Biloxi, the largest sea-food packing center in the country; Ocean Springs, across the bay from Biloxi, one of the best fishing grounds on the gulf; Pascagoula, the "singing river," where ships are built and sent to sea, and where great industries have begun.

Eight Millions in Hotels.

There are other towns on the Coast besides the seven enumerated, but development is so continuous that it is hard to say where one ends and the other begins. From Pass Christian, on the Bay of St. Louis, to Biloxi, on the Bay of Biloxi, there is virtually a never-ending boulevard of 30 miles, with beautiful homes on one side and on the other the restless stretch of sea rising to the horizon in the dimly seen chain of islands, which are the Coast's great wall against attack of storms.

The development of this 140-mile stretch of Gulf Coast includes, of course, the construction of several very fine hotels. There have been resort hotels in that section for many years, but it was only about three years ago that construction of modern super-hotels began. New hotels have been completed within the past year or are nearing completion and represent an investment of more than $8,000,000,000.

These include the Pine Hills hotel on the Bay of St. Louis, at Pass Christian, a $1,500,000 structure of 175 rooms and baths; the $2,500,000 Edgewater Gulf hotel, between Gulfport and Biloxi, and the $1,100,000 Hotel Markham at Gulfport. These are the big three of the 1926 crop, all opened since the first of the year. They are all beautiful structures, all of them fireproof and all of them up to the minute.

Trivoli Hotel Is Newest.

The Edgewater Gulf is probably the thinnest hotel in the world. It is only one room deep, and every one of the 400 rooms faces the gulf. It is 500 feet long and 10 stories high. It has glass-enclosed swimming pool for winter bathing, with a tower rising 14 stories, and cost $2,500,000.

The Trivoli hotel, by the Dorries Hotel company, is the first apartment hotel on the Coast. It has 90 apartments of one to three rooms.

The Markham, built by Chicago and New Orleans capital, and named in honor of the president of the Illinois Central railroad, is built for commercial and tourist business and is more of the city type of construction than the others.

Next in importance to these three is the new $500,000 addition to the Buena Vista hotel at Biloxi. This addition, just having been completed, at 140 feet, there are some twenty or thirty other hotel projects under way along the Coast, with construction started in some instances. Many fine apartment houses and scores of splendid residences also have been and are being built along the Coast and service facilities are being developed, each with a modern fireproof plan.

Expenditures $50,000,000.

Completion of the hotels already mentioned gives the Mississippi Coast resort of some 20,000 winter residents, and the number of tourists and vacationers (who are usually as numerous as were the Florida tourists at the same period) is only the beginning of what was the Sunshine State's winter resort.

Also is a summer resort for the South, and thousands of people from the interior of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, and other states are flocking to the Coast for their winter vacations.

CONFEDERATE BOAT IS REVEALED BY LOW TIDE AT PASCAGOULA

Vessel Is Old Confederate Gunboat Beached By Crew During Battle—Claim Crew Set Vessel Afloat Rather Than Surrender to Enemy.

An extreme low tide on Pascagoula Beach, not unusual during the winter months, brings to view the wreck of a Confederate gunboat in the sands about 2,000 feet from the shore. Very little is left; just the boilers and a few pieces of barnacle-covered iron, which might possibly have been parts of the engine equipment.

Old residents say that the ill-fated craft was beached by her own crew rather than permit her to fall into the hands of a pursuing Federal fleet. The crew abandoned the gunboat in shallow water after setting her afire and waded to the shore. During the years since the close of the war the wooden structure of the boat rotted off and drifted ashore. The boilers and iron work remains, settling deeper and deeper in the sands, and in a few years even this will be gone.

In an effort to obtain an account of the engagement which caused this loss to the Confederate navy and also to obtain information of a skirmish fought between land forces of the opposing armies on Pascagoula soil, old residents and local historians were asked to supply the details, but there are none now living who could give much enlightenment.

Outside of the fact that the boat was grounded to prevent capture by the Federals, there is nothing to be added. John H. Hill, Sr., a resident of Moss Point, related an incident of a school teacher, holding classes in a building near the beach, ordering her pupils to lie flat on the floor as shells from the Federal warships fell near the building.

Search among records in Jackson fails to reveal anything concerning the sinking of the Confederate ship of war, but a communication from a colonel of the Federal forces to his superior officer gives details of a skirmish at Pascagoula on April 9, 1863. Reference is made in a number of dispatches between the commander of the Confederate defenses at New Orleans and President Jefferson Davis on means of fortifying Ship Island, but nothing definite is revealed other than that it appears the Confederates once held the island, but either lost possession or abandoned it, as the Federal regiments that were engaged at Pascagoula was sent from the station at Ship Island.

The account of the skirmish at Pascagoula is contained in the report of Colonel N. W. Daniels, Second Regiment, Louisiana, Native Guards, of his headquarters at Ship Island on April 10, 1863, to Brigadier-General W. T. Sherman, commanding defenses at New Orleans. The Second Regiment was composed of seven companies attached to the Corps d'Afrique, a negro organization stationed at New Orleans and officered by white men.

Colonel Daniels' report follows: "Sir: I have the honor to report that I embarked with a detachment of 180 men of my regiment on the United States transport General Banks, and yesterday at 9 a.m. made an attack on the Federal regiments, which were on the beach, after was attacked by the Confederate cavalry, some 300 strong, and one company of infantry. Repulsed them after a severe fight, killing twenty or more, and wounding a large number, capturing three prisoners and the Confederate colors. Held the town until 2 p.m., frequent skirmishes occurring meanwhile, when I withdrew my forces to the boat, learning that large reinforcements had arrived from the camp up the Pascagoula river. Loss in battle, two killed and five slightly wounded. In covering return of troops to the transport, the United States gunboat Jackson, which accompanied the expedition under orders not to take part in the attack, supposing we were repulsed, unfortunately threw a shell directly into the column moving out the wharf, killing four men and seriously wounding five of my force. The expedition otherwise was a perfect success, as the enemy in every attack were repulsed; a large number killed and wounded; prisoners and their Confederate colors captured with the slight loss of two men. The expedition has also materially changed the plans of the Mobile forces, as they were about sending the weight of their numbers to Charleston, S. C., this attack causing them to send heavy reinforcements towards Pascagoula. I forward this dispatch in great haste by transport. General Banks, which leaves immediately, and will send details by next opportunity.

"Most respectfully, your obedient servant."

modations are being sold to capacity in most towns.

Concomitant with the building of hotels, homes, clubs, etc., the Coast is building several more new auto roads, and is, in general, making the region as nearly an earthly paradise, in point of beauty and comfort, as is possible. Expenditures of all sorts during the past year are estimated at more than $50,000,000.

The Gulf Coast, in addition to being the Middle West's favorite winter resort, also is a summer resort for the South, and thousands of people from the interior of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, and other states are flocking to the Coast for their winter vacations.

How Many Wives Will Say "Amen" To This?

"I told Jim" says one little lady, "there were a hundred things around the home I needed worse and would rather have than to put that extra money into a more expensive car."

A closed Ford for less than an open car of any other make, and the saving put into new linen, silver, draperies, or furniture—would please some little lady very much.

GULF COAST BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT IN BAY CITY FOR TWO DAYS IS NOW ON

In First Game Yesterday Bay High Defeats Opponent—
Bay High Boys and Girls in Finals For Today—
Much Interest Manifested.

Considerable interest was manifested yesterday and today in the two-day Gulf Coast High schools basketball tournament held in Bay St. Louis, conducted by St. Stanislaus College Athletic department in conjunction with S. J. Ingram, superintendent of Bay St. Louis city schools, who was instrumental in getting the tournament for this city.

Many Visitors Attracted. Yesterday's games attracted many and today will witness the finals. Tonight the final championship will be played and it is expected the big college gym will be crowded to overflowing. Yesterday's attendance and interest manifested easily displayed the fact that the tournament is going to be as a whole a success. It is attracting many and considerable interest to Bay St. Louis.

Yesterday's Game Hard Fought. Most of the games played yesterday were close and hard-fought, and brought to light a number of crack ball tossers from the different schools. It was heard last night by one prominent citizen and red-blooded good sport that he felt sure everyone present got their money's worth and today would not prove the exception.

Bay St. Louis High school boys came through in the first game yesterday to meet the Bay team in the Orange Grove players by a count of 23 to 12. The Bay boys got an early lead and led all the way through. This was due to their splendid playing throughout the game.

Picayune High school, earned the right to meet the Bay team in the semi-finals at 4 o'clock this (Saturday) afternoon by downing the cagers from Lucedale by a count of 37 to 23.

Two old rivals will clash in the other semi-final this afternoon at 5 o'clock when the Gulfport and Biloxi teams mix up as the results of their victories this evening. Gulfport eliminated Moss Point yesterday evening by a count of 23 to 17 and Biloxi took the last game of the night from Wiggins High school, 21 to 17. The Bay St. Louis vs. Picayune game will be played today at 4 o'clock instead of 3 o'clock as previously advertised. The finals will be played tonight at 9 o'clock.

Biloxi High school girls took the measure of the Gulfport High girls in the opening game last night in the girls' division. The Biloxi team won by a count of 20 to 13. The Bay St. Louis girls' cagers eliminated Moss Point in the other game by a count of 23 to 14.

Biloxi girls and the Bay girls will meet in the final game this evening at 8 o'clock.

The girls' reserved for this afternoon and tonight and many will witness the ordeal of elimination to the losers.

Officials are Watts, Perkins and Denson.

City Chief Clears City of Tramps.

From the public records we ascertain that 260 tramps visited Bay St. Louis during the month of February, that is the number that was given notice by Chief Albert Jones to "keep moving," assisted by his deputy.

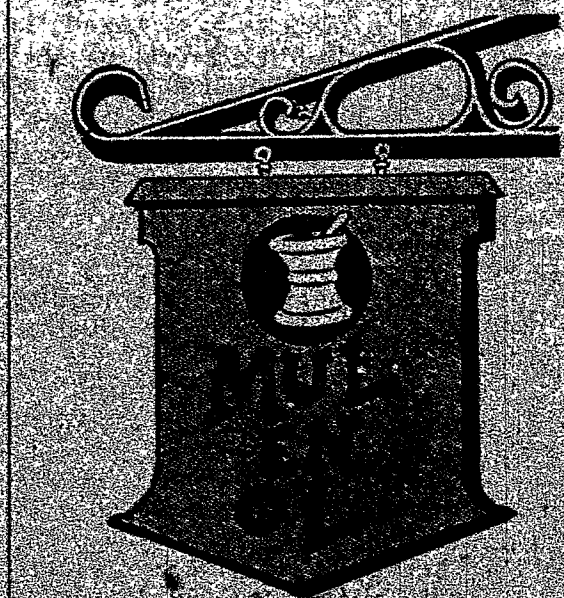

An analysis of the record is interesting, and is printed herewith showing from day to day how many "knights of the road" were either made to leave town by the side-door Pullman route or walk the bridge. Failure to do so means confinement in jail on the charge of vagrancy.

Here is the record:
Feb. 3rd, 9; Feb. 4th, 12; Feb. 5th, 37; Feb. 6th, 15; Feb. 7th, 4; Feb. 8th, 6; Feb. 9th, 7; Feb. 10th, 29; Feb. 11th, 16; Feb. 12th, 12; Feb. 13th, 2; Feb. 14th, 10; Feb. 15th, 16; Feb. 16th, 24; Feb. 17th, 2; Feb. 18th, 6; Feb. 19th, 2; Feb. 20th, 4; Feb. 21st, 11; Feb. 22nd, 10; Feb. 23rd, 8; Feb. 24th, 7; Feb. 25th, 9; Feb. 26th, 4; Feb. 27th, 2; Feb. 28th, 5. Total, 260.

Two hundred and sixty tramps turned loose in Bay St. Louis over a period of four weeks without restraint would play havoc, and the fact that Chief Jones and his deputy, Mechado, makes "em" "walk the plank" is to be commended.

TAXES INDICATE STEADY GROWTH OF MISSISSIPPI

Poll Taxes Assessed Among White Male Population of State Increase By 10,000 Since 1920—Property Value Also Shows Substantial Gain.

Poll taxes assessed among the white male population of Mississippi have increased almost 10,000 since 1920, a still further evidence of the growing population of the state, it is shown in the reports of the State Tax Commission.

Poll taxes assessed in 1926 numbered 182,612, as compared with 173,080 in 1920 and with 176,862 in 1924, the report shows.

The commission's new assessment shows a loss of property valuation in Mississippi of approximately $18,000,000 is also taken as a basis of population growth as well as increase in wealth by capital observers.

Property values that fell off every year from 1920 to 1923 in Mississippi were about $75,193,113. The value of railroads alone is more than $100,000,000.

This represents a growth from an assessed valuation of only $241,189, 126 twenty-five years ago, showing the wealth of the state has about trebled since that date.

Boys mix up as the results of their victories this evening. Gulfport eliminated Moss Point yesterday evening by a count of 23 to 17 and Biloxi took the last game of the night from Wiggins High school, 21 to 17. SPECKLED TROUT FISHING MARCH AND APRIL

Law Enforced by State Game Warden. Passed Bill Closing Fishing Season For Speckled Trout on Mississippi Coast During March and April.

The closed season for speckled trout fishing on the Mississippi Coast under the fish and game law passed by the last session of the state legislature began Tuesday and continues throughout the months of March and April.

This law was passed too late to be operative last year, but it is understood that it will be rigidly enforced this season by the game warden and his deputies. Under this law the months of March and April of each year shall be a closed season for the taking of speckled trout in the waters of the Mississippi Sound and waters adjacent thereto, lying within the state of Mississippi. An amateur Golf Championship Tournament will start on Monday, March 7th, at Pine Hills on-the-Bay, and continue through Saturday, March 12th, according to information given out by Alex Cunningham, pro of the Pine Hills Golf club.

Much interest is being shown in the coming tournament, and many golfers who have recently taken part in other tournaments on the coast are expected to play on the local course.

Mr. Harry Scovel, pro of the Colonial Golf club, of New Orleans, spent two days this week playing on the Pine Hills course. Mr. Scovel is a good judge of golf courses and if what is stated by him that the Pine Hills course has the best greens of any course in the south.

THE FLEX-O-RIGID A Famous Brown-Bilt

is a real friend to women who must be on their feet many hours of the day. It has two important features—it is flexible in the sole to permit freedom and exercise of the muscles and is rigid in the arch that will support and hold into position the delicate arch bones. These shoes have good style and no woman should be without at least one pair.

According to his surveys, Mr. James said there is no problem of getting the gaps side of the actual building of bridges. Placing the two bridges over the Rigolets and the Chief, he declared, is no serious engineering problem.

His inspection of roads in the Rigolets section, he reported, show that highways as far north as Slidell are in good condition. He said he did not make personal inspections of prospective routes but that he believes the route as it is will be almost perfect with bridges over the gaps.

"I understand," he continued, "that improvements can be made beyond the Rigolets, and it might be possible to build a transcontinental highway to be run through the Pearl River delta. However, on the New Orleans side of the Rigolets, approaches and roads are in good condition."

"The gravel roads can be maintained for at least another year, but I believe it would be advisable with heavy traffic for the highway to be paved."

In addition to inspecting the highways Mr. James said he conducted an incomplete check on traffic coming into New Orleans from the Gulf section. Steadiness of the travel and an increasing increase in the number of vehicles using the highway, he declared, impressed him.
